2 THE CLERK: Calling Case 15-md-02672, In Re:
3 Volkswagen "Clean Diesel" Marketing, Sales Practices, and 4 Products Liability Litigation.

5 Appearances, counsel.

6 MS. CABRASER: Good morning, Judge Breyer and 7 Magistrate Judge Corley. Elizabeth Cabraser on behalf of the 8 Plaintiff Steering Committee for plaintiffs.

9 MR. VAN EATON: Good morning.

10 THE CLERK: Would you please approach the podium.

11 THE COURT: Yeah.

12 MR. VAN EATON: Good morning, Your Honor. Josh
13 Van Eaton, Department of Justice for the United States. Here 14 today with my colleague Beth Engel and Nigel Cooney. Thank 15 you.

16 THE COURT: Good morning.

17 MR. AKERS: Good morning, Your Honor. Nick Akers for 18 the People of the State of California.

19 THE COURT: Good morning, Mr. Akers.

20 MR. COHEN: Good morning, Your Honor. Jonathan Cohen 21 for the Federal Trade Commission. With me this morning is my 22 cocounsel, Megan Bartley.

23 THE COURT: Good morning.

24 MR. GIUFFRA: Good morning, Your Honor.
25 Robert Giuffra from Sullivan Cromwell for Volkswagen.

1 With me today is my partner Sharon Nelles who will speak
2 to some of the issues we'll talk about, and also Bill Monahan.

3 And also with us Jeff Chase from Herzfeld and Rubin. Our 4 coliaison counsel on the defense side.

5 THE COURT: Good morning.

6 MS. DAWSON: Good morning, Your Honor. Cari Dawson, 7 Alston & Bird, for the Porsche defendants.

8 THE COURT: Good morning.

9 MR. SLATER: Good morning, Your Honor. Matthew Slater
10 from Cleary Gottlieb on behalf of Robert Bosch GmbH and Robert 11 Bosch LLC.

12 THE COURT: Good morning.

13 Well, of course, good morning, ladies and gentlemen.

14 This is the time that the motion for preliminary approval
15 of the settlement will be considered by the Court.

16 Let me remind the parties that we are on Court Call, which 17 means that a number of individuals -- I think we had about 120 18 at the last appearance call in, and they then are able to 19 listen to the proceedings. So it is important when you speak 20 that you speak into the microphone so that they are able to 21 hear.

22 Before I listen to a presentation with respect to the 23 proposed settlement, I'd like to get an update, if I might, on 24 the status of the litigation with respect to the three-liter
25 car. So proposed settlement is the settlement of the two-liter

1 vehicles. But there are approximately 85,000 three-liter cars
2 that are not included within this proposed settlement.

3 So perhaps I can turn to you, Mr. Van Eaton, representing 4 the governmental entities and you could give me an update.
5 Thank you.

6 MR. VAN EATON: Happy to, Your Honor. Thank you.

7 THE COURT: Thank you.

8 MR. VAN EATON: Since the last hearing we had before 9 Your Honor, you instructed us to educate Director Mueller on 10 the technical aspects of the three-liters. I'm pleased to 11 report that we have done that. My understanding is that not 12 only have the EPA and car folks done a joint presentation, but 13 also the defendants have done a technical presentation. So 14 we've accomplished that.

15 In addition to bringing the Director up to speed, there 16 have been a couple of technical meetings on the 14th and 19th 17 of July that the regulators hosted the defendants. My 18 understanding is the next such meeting is scheduled to occur
19 next week on the 2nd of August.

20 All the while, testing is ongoing by both the defendants 21 and the regulators on the three-liter vehicles and the proposed 22 fixes for the three-liter vehicles to see if they can be made 23 fully compliant.

24 My understanding is that the regulators expect to receive 25 an additional proposal from the defendants sometime in the

1 middle of August. And as Your Honor instructed at the last 2 hearing, we'd be prepared at the August 25th status conference
3 to provide the Court with additional information.

4 THE COURT: I appreciate that.

5 So if I understand this correctly, the testing is testing 6 which takes some period of time in order to satisfy the 7 governmental entities that a proposed fix is a fix, is a fix in 8 the sense that not only does it address the pollution
9 requirements or emission standards, I guess would be a better 10 word. It's not required to pollute. But it's important for 11 the governmental entities to be satisfied that any proposed fix 12 works over time, that is, if it has some lasting effect on 13 the -- with respect to the length of the anticipated -- or the 14 anticipated length of the car.

15 MR. VAN EATON: Absolutely right, Your Honor. The 16 term of art they use is "durability."

17 THE COURT: Durability. Okay.

18 MR. VAN EATON: Yes. To make sure that whatever 19 proposed modification would be durable enough to last as long 20 as it would need to for whoever was driving the vehicle.

21 THE COURT: And that takes some period of time; is 22 that correct?

23 MR. VAN EATON: There's testing that occurs by the 24 defendants before they submit the plan because they want to 25 submit a robust plan. And then, of course, there's

1 confirmatory testing that the regulators must do. And, yes, it 2 does take a fair amount of time.

3 THE COURT: And the testing that the regulators employ 4 is testing designed to determine whether or not they can 5 confirm, by empirical evidence, the statements or the 6 representations made by the manufacturer.

7 MR. VAN EATON: That's correct, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Okay. Great. Well, thank you. I 9 anticipate then that on August 25th we can have a more detailed 10 presentation of exactly where we are with respect to the 11 three-liter because I would believe that those people who are 12 owners of three-liter cars are concerned about the effect that 13 the driving of their vehicle has on the environment as well as 14 what's going to happen to their vehicle over time.

15 MR. VAN EATON: Yes, Your Honor. And the EPA and the 16 Air Resources Board share those concerns.

17 THE COURT: Great. Well, I appreciate that. Thank 18 you, Mr. Van Eaton.

19 MR. VAN EATON: Thank you.

20 THE COURT: So let me now turn to the preliminary 21 approval hearing. And I think maybe by way of explanation, I 22 should point out that in the preliminary hearing stage, it's 23 the Court's responsibility to determine, based upon the 24 presentation of the proponents of the settlement, whether it 25 appears to the Court that this is a fair and reasonable

1 settlement at this stage.

2 It is, of course, with the understanding that the Court 3 has yet to consider objections, if there are objections, to the 4 settlement. But the first step has to simply be is the Court
5 satisfied preliminarily that this appears to be an appropriate 6 settlement as the standards are set forth by the appellate 7 courts.

8 So let me turn to you, Ms. Cabraser, and ask you to begin 9 your presentation.

10 MS. CABRASER: Thank you very much, Your Honor.
11 Elizabeth Cabraser on behalf of plaintiffs and on behalf of the 12 Plaintiffs' Steering Committee.

13 We are here today to present and submit our motion for 14 preliminary approval of the proposed two-liter settlement, 15 preliminary certification of the two-liter settlement class for 16 purposes of the settlement approval process, designation of 17 settlement class representatives, and appointment of the 18 members of the PSC as settlement class counsel.

19 In one sense, this is the first step of the formal process 20 of class action settlement approval under Rule 23(e). In 21 another sense, we are almost at the midpoint of a process that 22 has seen much publicity and transparency, both with respect to 23 the intensity and the course of the settlement negotiations 24 and, of course, with respect to the set of related proposed 25 resolutions that together make up an agreed plan to comply with

1 this Court's directive and goal to address the immediate and 2 ongoing environmental harm by fixing these cars or getting them 3 off the road.

4 We have been, as the Court is aware, in the process of 5 discussing and negotiating on a very intensive schedule the 6 best and most realistic and most practical ways to try to 7 accomplish that in the real world. And we are very proud and 8 very excited that the settlements that were announced by filing 9 with this Court have been placed on the Court's website and 10 have been exposed to public reaction, media reaction, and class 11 member reaction for approximately the last month have met with 12 such a good reception.

13 The standard we must meet at this point in the Rule 23
14 process is to demonstrate to you, Your Honor, that the proposed 15 settlement is the product of serious, informed, non-collusive 16 negotiations, has no obvious deficiencies, does not improperly 17 grant preferential treatment to class representatives or to 18 segments of the class, and falls within the range of ultimate 19 final approval such that the Court can make an independent 20 determination that the settlement merits notice being given to 21 the class so that every member of the class can decide for 22 himself or herself whether they wish to participate in this 23 resolution.

24 This is not a two-dimensional or conceptual settlement
25 whereby money changes hands. The settlement does involve a

1 great deal of that. It is, we are told, the largest settlement
2 of its type, if not the largest consumer settlement of any type 3 in monetary terms.

4 But the money is the means to an end. And it is the means
5 to an end that cannot be achieved unless a number of parties 6 work together, as they have throughout the course of 7 negotiations, to accomplish a plan that works in the real 8 world.

9 Even trials take place in two dimensions, in a courtroom, 10 and at the end of the day there's a verdict or a decree or a 11 judgment which then must be enforced, usually against a 12 recalcitrant, aggrieved losing party. And that is the ticket 13 to the Courts of Appeals, and that can be a very long journey.

14 We knew because we were told by this Court and by our 15 clients that we could not simply embark on such a journey 16 without exploring the possibility of a speedier, more practical 17 alternative to stop and reverse environmental harm and to 18 compensate consumers.

19 And so we have designed a settlement in conjunction with 20 government parties that places the consumers, the owners and 21 lessees of these vehicles, in a central decisive role to serve 22 themselves as vehicles of this environmental mission because 23 the settlement gives them choices, choices for a buyback of 24 their vehicle, choices to get an emissions modification of 25 their vehicle if and when approved by EPA and CARB so that

1 either through the buyback or either through what we sometimes 2 call "the fix," polluting vehicles can be remediated or removed 3 from service and environmental harm.

4 So this is a consumer settlement. It is much more than 5 that. You'll hear about that today.

6 Before I turn this over to fellow members of the PSC to 7 talk about some of the considerations that went into the 8 settlement and the factors for preliminary approval, I think it 9 is both necessary and appropriate to acknowledge our 10 appreciation for the dedicated efforts far outside the norm of 11 those who represented the Department of Justice, the 12 Environmental Protection Agency, the Federal Trade Commission, 13 the California Air Resources Board, the California Attorney 14 General, and other Attorneys General, because under the 15 direction of aptly titled Director Mueller, your 16 court-appointed settlement master, each of these 17 representatives on behalf of their agencies went above and 18 beyond the call of their usually dedicated duty to work outside 19 of their comfort zones, to work with people they don't normally 20 work together with, to try to bring their own perspectives and 21 goals and objectives into a point of convergence with other 22 different, yet complementary objectives and goals, to come up 23 with a set of settlements that can be enforced by one court and 24 that can work together in the real world, in the world of 25 consumers and dealerships and cars and repairs and the

1 environment, to accomplish the very profound fundamental goals
2 of the litigation.

3 I would also like to say that we are here to answer any 4 questions the Court has about the details and terms of the 5 settlements, to present a summary of those terms and processes
6 for the benefit not only of the Court, but if you will indulge
7 us, Your Honor, for the benefit of the consumers and class 8 members who are interested not only in how and when the 9 settlement will be approved, but how it works for them and how 10 to go through the claims process in anticipation of ultimate 11 final approval by the Court.

12 Our agenda is a brief one, we hope. We're happy to 13 shorten or lengthen it as the Court desires.

14 Chris Seeger will talk about the public interest 15 environmental and consumer groups' reaction to the proposed 16 settlements.

17 Joe Rice will walk us through a summary of the settlement
18 terms and benefits for consumers and the claims process.

19 Lynn Sarko will talk about the vehicle information that 20 was available to the negotiators of the settlement and the 21 expert methodologies that we used.

22 Robin Greenwald will discuss the environmental benefits 23 that the coordinated settlements provide and that reflect the 24 interest and concerns of the class members as well.

25 Paul Geller will discuss the criteria and demonstrate that

1 the proposed two-liter settlement class meets the criteria for 2 preliminary settlement purposes class certification.

3 Steve Berman will summarize the initial comments, 4 questions, and reactions from class members in the month since 5 the settlement was announced.

6 Rosemary Rivas will summarize the class notice program, a 7 cutting-edge, state-of-the-art program to keep consumers 8 informed about the settlement and to facilitate their 9 participation.

10 We also have in the courtroom with us today the notice 11 program experts, Kathy Kinsella and Shannon Wheatman, who 12 worked with the parties on the notice program who have done 13 many of the most complex class action settlement and consumer 14 notice programs in the federal courts and who have worked every 15 step of the way with us on this program.

16 At that point, Your Honor, we're happy to answer your 17 questions, and I will ask you to consider under Rule 23(g) the 18 appointment of the members of the Plaintiffs Jury Committee as 19 settlement class counsel.

20 So with that, I'll turn it over to Mr. Seeger.

21 THE COURT: Thank you.

22 MR. SEEGER: Good morning, Your Honor.

23 THE COURT: Good morning, Mr. Seeger.

24 MR. SEEGER: Judge Corley, Director Mueller.

25 So I think I have the fun part here because I get to share

1 with the Court some of the feedback that we've experienced.
2 I've selectively pulled out some quotes of certain groups that 3 have studied the deal, at least to the extent they can, and 4 also these are very consistent with my role as state/federal 5 liaison where I am constantly interacting with attorneys who 6 are not necessarily before this Court but other courts and have 7 looked at the deal.

8 One of the first quotes I'd like to share is the 9 commentary by the New York Times Editorial Board where they 10 note:

11 "The federal government's $14.7 billion settlement with 12 Volkswagen over the company's emissions cheating scandal is one 13 of the largest consumer class-action payouts in American 14 history and a significant hit for the company. It should also 15 act as a deterrent for bad behavior by companies that 16 deliberately violate rules aimed at protecting consumers and 17 the environment."

18 An important part which I believe is a sentiment that's 19 been shared and very consistent with the feedback I've received 20 is:

21 "The settlement appears to provide fair compensation to 22 consumers, many of whom bought their diesel cars because they 23 believed Volkswagen's clean diesel marketing campaign." They 24 believed in the campaign.

25 Here's one from Carbuzz which is sort of an industry

1 magazine, it's an online magazine:

2 "I think Volkswagen being forced to pay up and buy back 3 affected cars is one of the greatest things to ever happen to 4 consumers. Why? Because unlike most recalls, this one didn't 5 directly harm anyone."

6 I think they mean in terms of personal injury.

7 "The arrogance the heads of the company showed and their 8 utter contempt for the environment and laws of the U.S. and 9 countries around the world is deplorable. They should have had 10 the book thrown at them."

11 We'll go through that one quickly.

12 "But when it comes to consumers, my eyes are dry. Each 13 one of them is guaranteed to get $5,100 as a 'sorry.' ...That 14 sounds like a great deal to me and it's one I bet most 15 Americans would take if given the chance, scandal or not."

16 The reporter for Extreme Tech, which is one of those tech 17 magazines that deals with like computer hardware and software 18 type things:

19 "Annoyance factor aside, you're a winner. As we predicted 20 last fall, anyone who owns a VW diesel may find VW settlement 21 turns out to be a good deal...No matter whether you bought or 22 leased or disposed of your VW, in the wake of Dieselgate, the 23 settlement is likely to make you money."

24 Which goes to the richness and the cash compensation
25 portion of the deal, I believe, Your Honor.

1 Consumers and Dealers, Jeff Nash, who is an owner of a 2 Jetta SportWagen TDI and managing editor at CNBC, published an 3 op-ed where he comments:

4 "My Volkswagen is suddenly worth so much more than I
5 expected. I love my VW, but I'm taking the cash and ditching
6 the car...Given the company's two options, a fix or a buyback, 7 we'd be crazy to keep it."

8 And Mr. Berman is going to address some of the feedback 9 from the particular consumers and class members. Again, as my 10 role as liaison, this is very consistent with state court 11 attorneys who have given me feedback about their read of the 12 deal and what their clients are saying about it.

13 Here's from a general manager of a Volkswagen dealership:

14 "The settlement is extraordinary...Nothing's ever been 15 done like this in the car business before...The great news for 16 consumers is the settlement really takes care of them... I have 17 over 1,000 of our guests and customers that have diesels and we 18 never thought they'd be compensated to this level for cars they 19 already love."

20 Environmental Advocates from the U.S. Public Research
21 Interest Group, in their official statement, it says:

22 "Nine months after news of Volkswagen's emissions scandal
23 broke, we're glad to see a settlement that compensates 24 consumers, cleans up the environment, and deters future 25 wrongdoing."

1 Sierra Club:

2 "Volkswagen" --

3 And, you know, there's some inflammatory stuff in here, 4 Your Honor. I'm not trying to pick another fight with 5 Volkswagen, but I'm just reporting the news:

6 "Volkswagen has chosen to poison our families with 7 dangerous pollution just to pad their pocketbooks. This 8 settlement, by removing or fixing 85 percent of the vehicles on 9 the road by fall of 2019, compensating affected consumers and 10 creating an environmental mitigation fund, is a strong step 11 towards cleaning up Volkswagen's dirty deceit."

12 And here is from Mike Litt who's part of U.S. Public 13 Interest Group published in the Northern California Record:

14 "The fact that they're getting the buyback at the value 15 before the scandal broke" -- which is an important aspect of 16 the deal -- "plus additional compensation is still a win for 17 consumers."

18 And importantly, I think that this is a very important 19 statement and I was happy to see it published.

20 "You have the state attorneys general, you have different 21 government regulators, you have consumer and environmental 22 advocacy groups, and you have the class action lawsuit. All of 23 these working in tandem is what's ensuring as much 24 accountability as possible."

25 And then from Kelley Blue Book, Your Honor, which is a

1 guide for car values. Karl Brauer, who's a senior analyst at 2 Kelley Blue Book, commented that:

3 "At nearly tenfold the cost of recent payouts by GM and 4 Toyota, this one should hold the record for the most expensive
5 automotive settlement for quite some time. While undoubtedly a 6 painful pill for VW's accountants and stockholders to swallow, 7 it's also the most comprehensive and customer-friendly
8 resolution I've ever seen."

9 And then I'm getting to the end, Your Honor.

10 Vice President, data science, at Autolist:

11 "At its core, the premium is very significant."

12 And, again, I just wanted to emphasize that I think that 13 these -- and there were many, many quotes I could have 14 selected. I think these accurately represent what's being said 15 about the settlement.

16 THE COURT: Mr. Seeger, let me ask you a couple of 17 observations.

18 Number one, you've shown me and, of course, people who are 19 not in the courtroom can't see a series of slides of these 20 quotes. And it's the Court's intention to post these slides on 21 the Court's website so that any individual who's not in court 22 today can get the benefit of the full presentation.

23 As liaison between the states and the federal action, you 24 received telephone calls or inquiries or e-mails from counsel, 25 is that right, in related state actions or in other state

1 actions?

2 MR. SEEGER: I would say it is not an overstatement to 3 say that I have handled dozens and dozens of phone calls with 4 individual attorneys, groups of attorneys from various states,
5 New Jersey, Texas, Oregon, California. I've received e-mails
6 and communications from consumers as well.

7 THE COURT: And in those communications, have you 8 emphasized to them that information about the settlement, that 9 information about the progress of the federal litigation is 10 available on the Court's website and other websites?

11 MR. SEEGER: The call begins and ends with that 12 usually, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: So I think it's extremely important that 14 consumers and lawyers representing consumers in other actions, 15 not just this action, but in other actions, understand and are 16 privy to and are fully informed as to all the details of what's 17 happening in this action. And I think it's important for two 18 reasons that I can think of off the top of my head. One is if 19 they have concerns about any aspect of this proposed 20 settlement, I want them to voice their concerns, and I want 21 them to voice their concerns, they can come to you, they can 22 address the Court, they can file statements, any concern that 23 they may have. Any question that they may have, I want those 24 questions answered.

25 And also -- so that's one aspect of it.

1 The second aspect is that decisions have to be made.
2 That's the way life is and litigation is. Fortunately in this 3 case, decisions seem to be made sooner rather than later.
4 That's been emphasized and that's good. That's great for a 5 variety of reasons.

6 But I want these decisions to be fully informed. And so I
7 want people to have the opportunity in every state in this 8 country to take a look at this settlement, to ask questions 9 about it, and then to make up their own minds as to whether or 10 not they think that this settlement, if I do give tentative 11 approval, is appropriate. And the only way they're going to be 12 able to do it is to be fully informed. The only way they're 13 really going to be able to do it is to judge for themselves 14 based upon the merits of the proposed settlement. And those 15 merits have to be explained in great detail.

16 It's not a simple settlement. I've never seen so many 17 pages. But it has to be. I mean, you can't just simply just 18 say, okay, well, we have a handshake deal. It doesn't work 19 like that. And it doesn't give consumers the comfort that they 20 are entitled to have, given these circumstances, that the 21 representations made by the various parties involved will be 22 honored, will be enforced. And in order for them to have that 23 level of comfort, it's essential that they have the details.

24 So Mr. Seeger, I want to thank you for serving in that 25 capacity. It's not the easiest thing to be head of the 1 complaint desk. And, you know, I mean you probably don't get 2 all those -- I mean, people who are satisfied probably don't 3 phone you and just say, "Oh, Chris, that's just great." And 4 though it may be. But there has to be a person who is sitting 5 out there who's accessible to the public and to consumers in 6 particular that will be responsive.

7 And so if I do give tentative approval, your task is 8 really just starting. Or maybe you don't think it's just 9 starting, but I think by some measure, you'll begin to 10 appreciate the breadth of this problem.

11 So thank you very much. Thank you.

12 MR. SEEGER: Thank you for those comments, Your Honor.
13 I appreciate it.

14 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Rice.

15 MR. RICE: Good morning, Your Honor. Joe Rice.

16 Your Honor, I'm standing here on behalf of the PSC to 17 present full preliminary approval of the class action 18 settlement. That's the result of a very difficult yet a very 19 cooperative effort that brought this work of the DOJ, the FTC, 20 the DPA, CARB together, those groups contributing to one 21 another's efforts, worked, cooperated together, spent a lot of 22 time together, had very open, transparent discussions together, 23 and resolved it in this settlement as well as the government 24 consent decrees that Your Honor will be considering at a later 25 date.

1 These settlements and consent decrees complement one 2 another. And they had to be coordinated and they had to 3 complement one another to accomplish all of the goals of the 4 parties.

5 I want to also point out we would not be here today with 6 this settlement accomplished in this period of time without 7 that cooperative effort and without the leadership and 8 encouragement of the Director who spoke sternly to us on many 9 occasions. I'll leave it at that.

10 So we are presenting this work product of a joint effort.
11 I first want to bring to the Court's attention what we believe 12 are some of the summary of benefits of the settlement. And we 13 will have this PowerPoint available to the Court and put on the 14 Court web's page at the Court's desire. And anytime during my 15 presentation, Your Honor, if you want to interrupt and ask a 16 question, please, as I go through this.

17 So here this settlement gives the consumer options. And 18 we thought that was very important. All parties felt the 19 consumer had to have the option to buy back the car, get rid of 20 the car if they wanted to. But there are a significant number 21 of consumers that love these cars and they want to keep them if 22 they can. So we had to have the options. But that option also 23 requires an approved emissions modification which is part of 24 the plan.

25 We also felt the September 15 pre-disclosure value of the

1 car had to be frozen because this is going to take time from a 2 reality point of view to get this process done with this many 3 owners and amount of cars involved.

4 The settlement provides that the condition of the car is 5 generally irrelevant to the value of the car. We're not going 6 to be fighting about dents, scratches, upholstery stains, 7 chewing gum, or anything of that nature. If you can drive the 8 car in, if the car is operable under its own power, the car is 9 eligible for the program, for the full buyback program.

10 Because it is going to take time, an individual consumer 11 may continue to drive their car with no reduction in the face
12 value of the car. So the September 2015 value is a frozen 13 value.

14 There is an assumption that the average mileage of about 15 12,500 miles a year will be given, but there could be a mileage 16 adjustment if there's a significant less mileage or greater 17 mileage driven. But the 12,500 is accounted for within the 18 settlement.

19 THE COURT: Is that a recognized industry standard 20 with respect to vehicle --

21 MR. RICE: The best information we could get working 22 with our experts is that was an acceptable standard. It's 23 about a 1,042 miles a month.

24 THE COURT: Thank you.

25 MR. RICE: The settlement provides restitution for the

1 consumers. It has a minimum of $5,100 to any owner of the car,
2 eligible owner, and a maximum of 10,000 for the eligible owner 3 in possession. It's not a maximum by design. It's just the 4 way the numbers came out. The minimum was by design.
5 Fifty percent of that if the vehicle was purchased after the 6 disclosure. You get the same payment for the restitution 7 whether you choose to keep the car or choose to go through the 8 buyback session.

9 The lessees will get an average payment of $3,500. But 10 they also get the opportunity to void their contracts without 11 any penalties and without any costs.

12 There's a loan forgiveness because similar to the mortgage 13 subprime time period, there are people that were maybe 14 convinced of getting these cars that were maybe a little more 15 expensive than they should have bought because they wanted this 16 clean diesel car. So there is a loan forgiveness of up to 17 30 percent of the vehicle value and restitution if the car 18 secures the debt as of June 28th, '16 that was greater than 19 that combined value.

20 We have the approved modification, emissions modification.
21 In doing that, Your Honor, the government documents that are 22 filed lay out in extreme detail what the modification has to 23 address and the information that will be made available to the 24 consumer so that the consumer will understand how their car is 25 going to be impacted by that modification. There's an extended

1 warranty from the emission modification work. And then there 2 is created a subsequent lemon law-type remedy that arises from 3 the modification work.

4 We have a statute of limitations protection while the 5 process is occurring. And we have a very simple claims 6 process, but we have independent oversight and obviously the 7 Court's continuing jurisdiction.

8 There's $2.7 billion to be invested in this country
9 through the states and their agencies to address the excess 10 pollution. The environment doesn't necessarily know where the 11 pollution comes from so these projects could be wide-variety, 12 wide-scale projects.

13 And then there's a $2 billion commitment from Volkswagen 14 to make progress in our desire for energy-free electronic cars, 15 no-pollution cars.

16 We also made sure, all parties, that no car can be resold 17 in the United States or removed from the United States unless 18 and until an approved emissions modification is applied. And 19 the cars that are not fixed will be rendered inoperable and 20 they'll be branded. And if the cars are fixed, they will still 21 have a title indication or certification indication that they 22 were a part of this problem.

23 Volkswagen is responsible for all the Court-approved fees
24 and costs. And the process will start -- if Your Honor 25 provides final approval of the settlement, the process will

1 start at that time with no further delay.

2 So if the Court accepts the schedule that the parties have 3 proposed, we should be having these cars in a buyback mode or 4 hopefully a modification mode in the fourth quarter of this 5 year.

6 THE COURT: And as to that, let me just make sure. As 7 I understand the settlement, it is that payments will start 8 upon the final approval of the settlement, but that the process 9 in terms of identification, in terms of some determination as 10 to what a consumer will get, and maybe in other aspects of it 11 can begin once the Court gives preliminary approval; is that 12 correct?

13 MR. RICE: Yes, sir. And we are going to point out 14 how that occurs.

15 THE COURT: Okay, thank you.

16 MR. RICE: First, we want to talk about class members 17 because this class is all citizens and residents of the 18 United States who, on September 18th, were a registered owners 19 or lessees of a Volkswagen or Audi two-liter TDI eligible
20 vehicle, or after September 18th but before December 30, 2018, 21 becomes a registered owner of an eligible vehicle.

22 Now like in most class actions, there are some people that 23 are expressly excluded. And here we have owners who acquired 24 after the disclosure of the issue and no longer have possession 25 of the vehicle; lessees of eligible vehicles that were leased

1 from a third-party lessor because those have contractual 2 relationships that we could not interfere with; we have owners 3 who sell eligible vehicles after June 28th, after the 4 settlement was announced; and owners of inoperable vehicles or 5 vehicles with branded title, usually branded junk or totaled.

6 We want to make it clear that if a consumer purchased one
7 of these vehicles prior to September 18th, 2015, and sold it 8 prior to that time, that they are not in this class.

9 Your Honor, the funding pool is a total of 10 $10,033,000,000. This does not include the 2.7 or the 11 2 billion that I referenced. This is just the consumer buyback 12 program and restitution program.

13 And you'll see within that, there is $42,670,000 for the 14 loan forgiveness program, based on the data that was available 15 to the parties, and the 26 million future lease payment fund, 16 all totaling up to the 10-33.

17 Now, as Your Honor mentioned, there is a claims program 18 process. And the center of it is that from a practical point 19 of view, the only entity that could be the claims process to 20 manage and take possession of these cars, to manage the 21 scheduling of the repairs, had to be Volkswagen. So Volkswagen 22 is in charge of the claims process.

23 However, all parties wanted to be sure that there was a 24 supervisor or an oversight. So the parties have recommended 25 that a claim supervisor, and we have recommended Ankara

1 Consulting Group, be appointed by the Court to monitor the 2 implementation and the compliance by Volkswagen with the 3 settlement agreement. They will be responsible for reporting
4 to the Court and to the parties and for keeping the data
5 available and to respond to questions from the Court.

6 However, there could be issues that arise, and therefore 7 we've also asked the Court to appoint a claims review
8 committee. And that committee would be made up of a 9 representative of Volkswagen, a representative of class 10 counsel, and a neutral appointed by the Court that would be the 11 dispute resolution group if there were a dispute arising about 12 the eligibility or the amount of compensation or something 13 about the implementation of the settlement.

14 So, Your Honor, yes, hopefully as soon as Your Honor rules
15 on preliminary approval, if the Court decides to grant 16 preliminary approval, the parties are prepared to go live with 17 a website that will allow an individual consumer to go home and 18 put in some basic information, generally the identification of 19 the car, and it will guide them through a process that will 20 allow them to look at the potential recovery among their 21 options in the settlement. And I'm going to walk through that 22 in a minute.

23 What the consumer would have to do is they have to provide 24 their VIN number, their contact information, and some 25 additional vehicle information. And then they can, at an

1 appropriate time, upload their documents so that the process
2 can be done in a more electronic fashion. But they will be 3 able to review their options.

4 So while these slides I'm showing you now are examples of 5 what will be on the website, it's not a specific car. These 6 are sort of a hypothetical. But you'll be able to go in and 7 put in your VIN if you go for the vehicle buyback, and it will 8 indicate to you exactly what your vehicle return amount would 9 be, your additional restitution.

10 If you've given them information about the financing, it 11 will do the calculation about whether or not you're entitled to 12 the loan forgiveness program and will give you what you would 13 receive as the owner of that car from the buyback.

14 Likewise, if you want to see what would happen in the 15 emissions modification, you can check that selection. Or if 16 you are a lease termination, you've got an option to go to that 17 section and it will give you the information. If you are an 18 eligible seller entitled to restitution, you'll be able to go 19 to that section and it walks you through it the same for the 20 total lease restitution.

21 So what happens then? Upon your final approval, all of 22 the information that people have inputted during the process, 23 which hopefully will start upon preliminary approval, will 24 already be in the web, in the database. So they will be able 25 to go back in and actually submit their claim.

1 Once they submit their claim, they can elect their 2 remedies. And there's five principal remedies. You can have 3 the buyback with your restitution. If you're an eligible 4 seller, you can just accept the restitution. You have the 5 lessee restitution for former lessees. Terminating the lease
6 if you wish to do so. Or you can participate in the approved 7 emissions modification and restitution if it's available then 8 or you can delay that decision.

9 And when I talk about delay the decision or delay making 10 that decision, one does not have to decide whether to take the 11 buyback or the modification until they know what the 12 modification is going to be. If they want to wait and see what 13 the modification is going to be, they always have the 14 opportunity to go back and select the buyback.

15 In addition, if one is waiting the modification and if the 16 modification is not finally approved, then at that time the 17 individual can withdraw from the settlement.

18 THE COURT: And by "modification being approved," you 19 are talking about the regulatory authorities giving the 20 approval?

21 MR. RICE: Yes.

22 THE COURT: So it's not that -- that's the approval 23 we're talking about.

24 MR. RICE: The emissions approval, modification
25 approval.

1 THE COURT: And my understanding is that if there is 2 no such approval, then class members or people who are 3 provisionally in the class can opt out over some period of 4 time.

5 MR. RICE: If that happens, and it's based on each 6 model of car --

7 THE COURT: Right.

8 MR. RICE: -- then they will have the opportunity 9 between May 1st, 2018 and June 1st, 2018 to withdraw from the 10 settlement. Their statute of limitations is protected. And 11 they'll be able to proceed under whatever theory they wish to 12 proceed.

13 Or having driven the car for two years, they can then sell 14 it back for the September 2015 value. And if they have not 15 exceeded the average mileage, they would have no adjustment.
16 And if they have driven less mileage, they could in fact have a 17 higher number if it's a significant change.

18 THE COURT: So they can wait for some period of time 19 and the value of their buyback won't be diminished.

20 MR. RICE: That is correct.

21 THE COURT: And they'll also get use of their vehicle.

22 MR. RICE: That is also correct.

23 THE COURT: Okay.

24 MR. RICE: And if they decide then to accept the 25 modification, the process is simple. They go back and they

1 pick that option. Volkswagen responds with an offer. And they 2 schedule the modification where they will receive their 3 payment.

4 Now let's go back and say an individual makes a decision
5 now they want to go back and take the buyback now. So upon 6 final approval, they'll be able to make that selection.
7 Volkswagen has 10 days, 10 business days, to identify the 8 claim, look at the documentation, and accept it, or if there is 9 a problem, they have to specifically identify to the consumer
10 what the problem is and how it's to be cured. Once the claim 11 is cured, Volkswagen has 10 business days to make an offer.

12 Once that offer is made, then the buyback is scheduled, 13 and then that scheduled buyback has to occur within 90 days.

14 THE COURT: When you say about the offer, you're 15 saying that the offer would have to be consistent with the 16 terms that have already been negotiated.

17 MR. RICE: That's correct. It just verifies what you 18 learned on the web with the current information.

19 THE COURT: So it's not really how Volkswagen feels on 20 any particular day or looks at what the market is or makes some 21 other determination. The terms of the offer are essentially 22 fixed at this point -- or fixed at the time that the settlement 23 receives final approval.

24 MR. RICE: Yes, Your Honor. And the only issue we 25 have to look at is to be sure the option selections and the

1 mileage are being considered, to make sure that's done 2 correctly.

3 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

4 MR. RICE: Again, if the consumer chooses a lease 5 termination, then there's 45 days to have the lease terminated.
6 All they would do is turn the car back in and they would 7 receive their check on site at the time of the turn-in for the 8 mileage.

9 If the mileage is -- when the car shows up, if there's an 10 issue about the mileage, then the payment will be made within 11 three banking days thereafter because there may have to be a 12 separate check cut. Or you can choose to do electronic 13 transfer of funds, and that also takes three banking days.

14 So let's say the buyback is the choice. The consumer 15 would get the September 2015 NADA clean trade value of the car, 16 plus 20 percent of that value, plus a fixed payment of 17 $2,986.73. That middle column is sometimes referred to in the 18 documents and in discussions as the variable component being 19 the 20 percent related to the NADA value and the fixed 20 component being the 2,983.

21 Or -- and -- excuse me, not or -- and if applicable, the 22 loan forgiveness would be available.

23 I think it's important for the consumer to understand they 24 have to look at this total payment as the total recovery and 25 not try to break it down and try to value their car versus

1 value their damages. It is a package. It was delivered as a 2 combined collective recovery for the consumer to consider.

3 So in an individual case, and this would be the type of 4 information they'd be able to find on the web, if you assume 5 that the value of the car, a NADA clean trade was $9,500, then 6 you would add the variable component, 20 percent of that which 7 is the 1,900, plus the fixed component, and then the value of 8 the car. So the total recovery for that car and that owner 9 would be $14,600 if it's an eligible owner with an eligible 10 vehicle.

11 If the individual had purchased after the disclosure date 12 and they're still in possession, then there would be an 13 adjustment on the owner restitution because you've also got 14 potential owner-seller -- eligible seller involved and they 15 would get half of the owner restitution of the fixed -- of the 16 restitution component, or they may get a little bit more 17 depending on what happens in the eligible seller process and 18 potential loan forgiveness. So, again, if that individual 19 purchased afterward that same $9,500 car, their payment would 20 ultimately be the $12,050.

21 Now, we also have situations where cars get wrecked, and 22 we do not feel it's appropriate -- once an individual chose to 23 stay in the settlement, it would not be appropriate for them to 24 be totally penalized if by some event their car was totaled.
25 So an owner of an eligible vehicle that is totaled after the

1 opt-out date would still be entitled to get their owner
2 restitution payment. Of course they would not get the vehicle
3 value. However, if they sold that car to an insurance company 4 or been paid for through some process, that would be separate 5 money the consumer would keep and would not affect their 6 restitution payment.

7 THE COURT: And the restitution amount is $5,100.

8 MR. RICE: That would be the minimum amount.

9 THE COURT: Minimum.

10 MR. RICE: So, again, if you look at this example 11 where we have an individual that totaled their car but the car
12 had a value of $16,000, then their compensation would be 6,186 13 because of the value of the car, and the variable component 14 would change.

15 And as I pointed out earlier, the compensation is the 16 same -- the restitution portion is the same whether the lessee
17 chooses a lease termination or the approved modification or no 18 longer has an active lease. And that is 10 percent or half of 19 the vehicle portion of the restitution plus the fixed 20 component.

21 So, again, if you assume the value of the lease car is 22 $20,000 with no adjustment for mileage, you would have the 23 variable component which is the 10 percent portion, plus the 24 fixed component. So that lessee, after turning the car in, 25 would still get $3,529 of this particular car.

1 Now, we have consumers that sold their car after 2 disclosure of the problem but before the announcement of the 3 settlement. And those individuals fall into the category
4 referred to as the eligible seller. So those people may have 5 been forced to sell their car or just felt like for their own 6 personal reasons they did not want to drive their car anymore.

7 Those individuals are entitled to register, but they do 8 have a shorter claim process, which is very important for the 9 consumer to understand and this will be presented prominently 10 in the notice and on the web, that the deadline for these 11 individuals to file a claim is September 16th, 2016.

12 And the basis for that, Your Honor, is that we need to 13 know of their existence and their volume and the vehicles 14 involved in order to start the buyback process because there is 15 a payment related to both the seller and the purchaser in that 16 situation. So it's very important for those people to file 17 their claims early and get those in by September 16th of 2016.
18 Under that scenario, again, there's a calculation as to what 19 would happen to that. Again, that's a hypothetical car.

20 So now we talked about the loan forgiveness which was a 21 very key component because we understood from the data that we 22 were able to generate that there are some people that have 23 so-called negative equity in their car.

24 So if you have a loan that's secured by the eligible 25 vehicle, and the total recovery, the vehicle value and the

1 owner restitution, is less than the debt, current debt, then 2 you're eligible to be considered for the loan forgiveness. And 3 that could be an amount of an additional 30 percent of the 4 total sum of the vehicle value and owner restitution payment.
5 That would be paid from a designated loan forgiveness fund that 6 we discussed earlier.

7 But it's important to understand that that does not open 8 the gate for people to go delinquent on their debts now or to 9 go out and borrow money on their car now. So those situations 10 are expressly not to be considered for loan forgiveness.

11 So to give you an example of how the loan forgiveness
12 would work. If you had a vehicle value of $15,000 and then you 13 had an owner restitution of 5,986 and you had an existing debt 14 of 24,000, you see that your debt -- your value that you're 15 receiving is less than your debt so you'd be eligible for the 16 loan forgiveness on the left-hand side.

17 On the right-hand side, if you take the same facts but you 18 increase the amount of debt, then you see that the debt is 19 greater than the 30-percent variant so you would receive up to 20 the 30 percent, but it is capped at that. So the consumer 21 could still have some obligation on the debt if they were very, 22 very much in debt on the car.

23 Now, I mentioned the delay. We've been through this 24 slide. It's just very important for us to be sure the consumer 25 understands completely that this is not a rush-to-decision

1 situation, they can wait and see what the modification, they 2 need to look at the government documents about what's going to 3 be disclosed to be sure they're gong to have enough
4 information. They can keep driving these cars and they don't 5 reduce the value of the car. And they are protected if 6 unfortunately they were to total the car after the opt-out 7 period.

8 The approved modification -- emissions modification 9 compensation, as I said, is the same amount as you would get 10 under the buyback program. So if you decide to take the 11 modification, you'd follow the same variable and fixed 12 component calculation, which again the website will guide you 13 through that.

14 And just for the Court's understanding, there is a very 15 strict schedule that has been presented to the Court, and 16 Volkswagen has agreed to with the regulator agencies, about how 17 this modification is going to be considered. And there are 18 deadlines. And it's very important for the consumer, and this 19 will be prominent again in the notice and on the web page, to 20 understand that September of 2018 is the end of the claim 21 filing deadline. Everything -- if you're going to file a 22 claim, you have to do it by then, whether it's buyback or ask 23 for the approved modification under the class settlement and 24 receive the restitution. Then Volkswagen has till the end of 25 the year to get it accomplished.

1 It is important also to understand that while this 2 modification schedule is the schedule that's set now, it's 3 possible that through some further discussions with the 4 regulators there would be a modification that might come up at 5 some later time that's even better that would be adopted. But 6 that wouldn't be outside the class settlement and might be 7 available but would not carry the restitution payment with it.

8 Your Honor, I went through that fast. I'll be glad to 9 answer any questions you have. And Elizabeth held us all to a 10 pretty tight schedule, as she has.

11 JUDGE CORLEY: Can I just ask one question?

12 THE COURT: Please.

13 JUDGE CORLEY: For the seller --

14 MR. RICE: Eligible seller?

15 JUDGE CORLEY: -- eligible seller, do they have to 16 make a claim by September 2016 or just identify themselves?

17 MR. RICE: They need to submit their claim.

18 JUDGE CORLEY: Okay. They have to make a claim.

19 Thanks.

20 THE COURT: Great. Thank you very much, Mr. Rice. I 21 appreciate it.

22 MR. RICE: Thanks.

23 MR. SARKO: Good morning, Your Honor. Lynn Sarko on 24 behalf of the PSC.

25 Your Honor, I have the honor of talking about vehicle

1 information and the experts, but I am going to be brief. As my 2 father said, I'm most persuasive when I'm brief.

3 THE COURT: My father said that I'm most persuasive if 4 I say nothing.

5 (Laughter.)

6 MR. SARKO: I'm glad my father didn't meet your 7 father.

8 In trying to reach a settlement, I think it's important 9 that we have adequate expertise, adequate access to information
10 and data, and adequate analysis. I can assure you in this case 11 we have all three.

12 The process was such, and it's unique, that in this 13 particular case we weren't dealing with hypothetical cars.
14 Every single car has a VIN number which, when we started, I 15 knew not much about cars. Now, if you want to buy a car, bring 16 me along, I can help you.

17 That VIN number is 17 digits long. It's a digital 18 fingerprint of every car. Every car in this class we knew 19 make, model, options, everything including when it came off the 20 assembly line. That information is unique for this class and 21 allowed us to properly analyze all of that data.

22 In addition, we also had access to real world data. We 23 ended up landing on the National Automobile Association data.
24 We also looked at Kelley Blue Book. We looked at all the 25 available data we could find. And we were able to -- that is,

1 our experts were able to in essence match that real world 2 pricing data with the real digital fingerprints of the cars to 3 come up with accurate data across the whole field.

4 Now in the case for the expertise of the experts, we 5 relied on a group called Fontana Group, and a person leading in 6 this case, Ted Stockton, who was the expert there. In fact,
7 you've probably heard of Car Talk. We coined the phrase "Ted 8 Talk" because he helped us, he was at a lot of the settlement 9 meetings, and it turned out that he knew and had worked against 10 and with the lead expert for Volkswagen. And I must say we had 11 a very collaborative, at times not always friendly, but we 12 ended up agreeing on most of the things.

13 There were presentations that were done by both of them.
14 The parties were able to test each other's data. And in this 15 case, not only did we have economists, Volkswagen had 16 economists, but we had all of the government agencies, many of 17 them had economists. It was like a convention of economists.

18 We knew more about these cars and the data than you will 19 believe. And I am shortchanging it, but this was weeks and 20 months, and there could be complaints about how to look at the 21 data, but in the end, we wrestled every issue down for every 22 single car to come to agreement as to what the data would mean 23 for those vehicles that were in this class.

24 I would say in addition, the PSC, we had all of the 25 information from their clients. There are thousands of clients

1 that PSC members had. We had that information that we could 2 fold into this discussion. In addition, the PSC members, many 3 of them have economics backgrounds, accounting backgrounds, 4 finance backgrounds, had worked on automotive cases in the 5 past. That expertise together, I would say, was useful and 6 allowed us to come up with what I think is a totally robust and 7 accurate settlement.

8 We looked at data. And Volkswagen was very good about 9 sharing data. We looked at public and private leasing 10 information, financing information, available cars, what are 11 the different models that people would choose that were 12 shopping for over time, and all of that mileage information.
13 All of that information was fed into the hopper, argued about, 14 debated, and I would say that this is in all the cases I've 15 been in, the one that has the most real world accurate data 16 that we had to analyze.

17 In sum, I would say the settlement negotiations were very 18 fair, intensive, very data driven, and we tried to consider all 19 possible scenarios using real world data and intensive expert 20 analysis and review.

21 And I would like to submit to the Court that we met all of 22 the standards that are required for a settlement on a class 23 basis.

24 THE COURT: Thank you Mr. Sarko.

25 MR. SARKO: Thank you, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Ms. Greenwald.

2 MS. GREENWALD: Good morning, Judge Corley, 3 Judge Breyer.

4 So I have the privilege of talking about how the 5 settlements provide environmental benefits both for the public 6 as a whole and for class members.

7 So as we know, class members who purchased these vehicles 8 overwhelmingly shared and continue to share a concern for the 9 environment. That's why a lot of people bought these cars.
10 And it is such class members, through the settlement, have as 11 one of their goals ensuring that the Volkswagen two-liter, 12 which we're here about today, do not generate continued excess
13 nitrogen oxides into the environment. And the settlement 14 agreement accomplishes these environmental goals in several 15 ways.

16 So some of this is repetitive of what Mr. Rice said, but 17 I'm going to put them all in one bundle for the next couple of 18 minutes.

19 So as Your Honor has heard, the settlement agreement 20 ensures that the polluting vehicles no longer emit nitrogen 21 oxides as of a certain point in time through the buyback or the 22 modification program. So these cars will no longer be in the 23 current condition they're in today and continue to emit into 24 the air dangerous air pollution.

25 The settlement agreement also ensures that the vehicles

1 that VW repurchases are not resold either domestically or in 2 the foreign markets until and unless they have received the 3 modification. So in other words, the settlement agreement 4 recognized that there's a global environment, Your Honor, and 5 that the vehicles subject to this settlement agreement cannot 6 pollute anywhere in the world.

7 THE COURT: By the way, I think that's one of the most 8 important aspects of the program because it appears to me that 9 it is not responsible to resolve a nationwide class action by 10 virtue of taking those cars and giving them to some other 11 country where they could potentially damage the environment of 12 that country and, as you point out, of the world; that we have 13 a special responsibility that, in resolving pollution issues 14 here nationwide, we don't create them internationally.

15 Because that's, at least in the Court's view, that would 16 not be a responsible resolution of the problem. So I was 17 particularly pleased to see that there was agreement by the 18 parties on this issue.

19 MS. GREENWALD: Thank you for recognizing that. I 20 couldn't agree more. And I know our entire team feels the same 21 way.

22 And as we also know, the emissions from these cars impact 23 air quality which in turn can result in adverse health impacts, 24 particularly respiratory issues. And in this settlement, class 25 members do not release in any way personal injury claims in the 1 future.

2 And fourth, and perhaps one of the most special aspects of 3 this case, is the settlement agreement is part of a coordinated 4 effort with the Plaintiffs' Steering Committee, the 5 United States, and the State of California. We have all worked 6 incredibly well together. And as part of that collaboration, 7 the overall settlements also provide for two environmentally 8 focused funds, as Mr. Rice briefly talked about, totaling 9 $4.7 billion. That's an ample figure to address the past, 10 present, and future environmental impacts from these vehicles.

11 One of the funds, the one that's in the amount of 12 $2 billion, is for the increased investment by Volkswagen for 13 the zero emission vehicle technology. And this amount is 14 importantly over and above what VW had already previously 15 designated for such technologies. So it's an additional 16 $2 billion for the type of technological research. The other 17 $2.7 billion is for the environmental litigation trust, a trust 18 designed to reduce nitrogen oxide emissions throughout the 19 United States.

20 So I'd like to end by talking of these funds, which are 21 set forth in detail in the Department of Justice consent 22 decree, play a critical role in the significant environmental 23 benefits of these settlements, Your Honor. And we endorse and 24 support them as part of an essential component of all of the 25 coordinated and related settlements in this action.

1 So if you have any questions, I'm happy to help answer.

2 THE COURT: Thank you very much.

3 MS. GREENWALD: Thank you very much.

4 MR. GELLER: Good morning, Your Honor, Judge Corley, 5 Director Mueller.

6 The courts in this district have recognized the pivotal 7 role and ensuing consequences of the class certification
8 decision. And it's because of that role and those consequences
9 that the Supreme Court teaches that even in the settlement 10 context, maybe especially in the settlement context, the 11 requirements of Rule 23 require what they call undiluted, even 12 heightened attention.

13 So what I'm going to do, Your Honor, is try briefly to go
14 through the requirements of Rule 23. Because we're seeking a 15 nationwide class under Rule 23(b)(3), I'd like to mention just 16 for a moment the Court's jurisdiction. This case falls within 17 the Class Action Fairness Act, or CAFA, because each of the 18 requirements of CAFA are met.

19 In addition, we have claims under RICO. And as the Court 20 knows, RICO provides -- expressly provides jurisdiction to the 21 Court. We have a Magnuson-Moss Act, a federal claim, as well 22 as state court claims which, again, because of CAFA, the Court 23 has original jurisdiction. Even without that, the Court has 24 supplemental jurisdiction under the Supplemental Jurisdiction
25 statute 28 USC 1367. So from a federal subject matter

1 jurisdiction standpoint, the Court is wearing both a belt and 2 suspenders.

3 Going through Rule 23, we start with 23(a) which has four 4 requirements: Numerosity, commonality, typicality, and 5 adequacy. The numerosity requirement is easily met here.
6 We're talking about 475,745 vehicles. And as Mr. Sarko said, 7 we know everything about those vehicles. We know who bought 8 them, who leased them.

9 So while I said 23(a) has four express requirements,
10 there's also, as Your Honor knows I think as well as any judge 11 in the country, this sort of fifth implied requirement of 12 ascertainability. And in this case, ascertainability, I don't 13 know of another case where a class is more ascertainable than 14 this. Everything in ConAgra, this is the opposite. ConAgra, 15 of course, being a case where it was difficult to know who 16 bought these small products. There was no trustworthy method.
17 Here we know precisely who bought these big ticket items. So 18 we have numerosity and ascertainability.

19 The commonality requirement is a minimal and permissive
20 requirement, so says Hanlon v. Chrysler in the Ninth Circuit.
21 And here this entire case is premised on a common course of 22 conduct that's answered by common evidence. And so commonality 23 is easily met.

24 Typicality as well. The typicality requirement under 25 23(a) requires that all class members or the class

1 representatives' claims are typical of all class members.

2 Judge Illston, in the Flat Panel Antitrust case, said that 3 even if you purchase different models of the product at issue, 4 that doesn't effect typicality. So here typicality again
5 easily overcome.

6 The fourth requirement is adequacy. It looks at both the 7 adequacy of the class representatives and the adequacy of 8 counsel. We have 174 class representatives who have done 9 everything that a class representative should do. They're 10 fully informed. They understand their role, their 11 responsibilities. They've participated in discovery. They've 12 completed detailed plaintiffs' fact sheets.

13 More cases that focus on adequacy look at counsel. And so 14 I get a moment to talk about the Steering Committee and the 15 leadership of Elizabeth Cabraser.

16 The rule uses the word "adequate" as the bar, the 17 standard. Were we adequate? And I think to say that we were 18 adequate sounds inadequate because whatever the bar would be, 19 whether you call it excellence or superior, this committee has 20 met that standard. I'm very proud to be a part of it.

21 Once we go through the 23(a) requirements, we get to 22 23(b). We have to assure the Court that we fit with one of the 23 categories of 23(b). And I'll just mention for a moment, 24 there's two types of cases, (b)(2) and a (b)(3) class 25 action, that come to mind when you look at what happened here.

1 Judge Posner in the Seventh Circuit, in a case called 2 Randall v. Rolls-Royce, said that class action lawyers like to 3 shoehorn cases into (b) (2) classes. And he said that defense 4 lawyers like them as well because it doesn't provide the 5 procedural safeguards of a (b) (3) class.

6 And when you talk about a settlement that boils down to a 7 buyback or a fix, the defendants being forced to do something,
8 one can conceive of an argument where it would be a (b) (2)
9 class. But consistent with the theme that we've held 10 throughout, which is consumers first and to honor consumer 11 choice, none of us, including defense counsel, considered this 12 as a (b) (2) class. This is -- we're seeking a (b) (3) class 13 because that's best for consumers and that provides consumers 14 additional choice in terms of getting detailed notice and the 15 opportunity to opt out, which are not -- those safeguards are 16 not available to a (b) (2) class.

17 So under (b) (3), there's two additional requirements that 18 we need to meet. And those are a predominance requirement and 19 superiority. Meaning common questions must predominate over 20 any individual questions, and the class action must be a 21 superior method of adjudication.

22 So looking at predominance, the cases look at two aspects.
23 Number one, there's a lot of cases that talk about state law 24 claims and do variations in state law defeat predominance. And 25 the law in the Ninth Circuit is very clear that the answer is

1 no. The Ninth Circuit follows the Third Circuit Sullivan
2 decision where Judge Rendell said that variations in state law
3 do not defeat the predominance requirement of 23(b)(3), 4 especially in the settlement context, but not only in the 5 settlement context. And there's a number of cases here in the 6 Northern District that follow that.

7 The other aspect of predominance that some cases look at 8 have to do with the calculation of damages post Comcast. And 9 again the law is clear in the Ninth Circuit that as long as we 10 have a model that can be applied classwide, and Mr. Rice, his 11 presentation showed exactly what that model is. So we're not 12 talking hypothetically about the ability to do it, we actually 13 have done it. And the fact that there are -- you know, one 14 individual may receive a different amount than another 15 individual clearly does not defeat predominance. And that's 16 been the law in the Ninth Circuit both before and after 17 Comcast.

18 The superiority requirement is the last requirement. And 19 that simply asks if a class action is the most efficient 20 method. And I would submit to you that it is. In the words of 21 Judge Hamilton in the Dynamic Random -- DRAM case, she said 22 that the only thing inefficient in that case would have been to 23 not certify the class and to look at the resources that would 24 be used by the courts and by the parties if there were 25 thousands of individual cases. Here we're talking about

1 hundreds of thousands.

2 So I would submit that a class action is superior to any 3 other method of adjudicating these claims and that we have now 4 met the requirements of a nationwide 23(b)(3) class action.

5 Thank you.

6 THE COURT: Thank you very much.

7 MR. BERMAN: Good morning, Your Honor, Director
8 Mueller.

9 I've been tasked with talking about consumers, and I'd 10 like to start, break that into two parts, Your Honor.

11 One is what information do we have from consumers when we 12 negotiate the settlement, and what has the reaction been since 13 the settlement was announced.

14 A lot of times we don't pay enough attention to our class
15 representatives. That's not this case. In this case, I 16 personally have 13,000 clients who have signed agreements with 17 my firm. So we have been in constant interaction with those 18 clients, as have other members of the PSC from the get-go.

19 And as we were negotiating the settlement and going 20 through various iterations, we would actually have firms do 21 surveys to test out the reaction of class members to the 22 various concepts we were developing. So when we were in that 23 room, we knew to a fair certainty what the class would like, 24 what they wanted. And I think that's pretty unusual.

25 So we were very informed when we were negotiating to a

1 level that I've never seen before.

2 Second, the reaction of the class, I'll give you an idea
3 of the topics that we're getting questions on. The first one 4 was -- in fact, the first thing that came up was what about 5 3.0. The 3.0 people are saying, "What about me?" And we've 6 assured those class members that Your Honor has a foot on the 7 pedal with respect to 3.0. It's going to get addressed.

8 We're getting a lot of calls. We've taken about 2,000
9 inquiries since the settlement was announced. People want 10 general information. That's easy to do and the website will 11 obviously give them that general information.

12 And then we're getting questions in the various areas that 13 Mr. Rice walked you through. We're getting questions from 14 leaseholders, and we're able to answer those questions, I 15 think, to their satisfaction. We're getting questions about 16 people who have loan balances, and as you've heard, we've 17 addressed that issue. So we're able to answer those questions, 18 I think, to their satisfaction.

19 We're getting questions from people who sold their cars 20 because they couldn't wait around for a fix. And we were able 21 to answer those questions. We're getting questions from people 22 whose cars were totaled, and we anticipated that issue. We're 23 able to answer those questions.

24 We're getting a lot of questions about valuation. And I 25 think once we sit down and explain to people both the law and

1 how we arrived at the valuation, they're happy with the 2 valuation. There will be some people that will not be happy
3 with the valuation. There are some people who are just so 4 angry with Volkswagen that I suspect they will choose to 5 litigate and go for treble damages. I don't think it will be 6 that many people, but there are just going to be those people 7 who, because of the fraud that occurred here, who won't be 8 satisfied. But again, so far to date, the overwhelming
9 reaction I think we're getting is satisfied.

10 And I can make it on a personal level, Your Honor. I 11 bought three of these, two for my kids and one for my cycling 12 team. So I sat down with my kids and walked them through the 13 settlement, and they don't want to follow their father's advice 14 necessarily, but at the end of the day, they said, "Good job, 15 Dad." I don't get that very often, Your Honor.

16 So unless you have some questions, that's all I have.

17 THE COURT: No, that's quite a testimonial.

18 Well, again, you know, you raised an interesting question 19 about those people who decide that they want to pursue their 20 claims individually. First of all, they're entitled to do so.
21 The law permits them to do so.

22 But as to those people, I would just urge them to look at 23 the details of this settlement and to look at what is being 24 achieved by this settlement. Not just from the individual's 25 point of view, but from the point of view of the environment

1 and from the point of the view of remediation and from those 2 points of view.

3 Because that's significant. And that's part of what you
4 are attempting to achieve in this settlement. So I just hope
5 that people, when they make their judgments as every consumer 6 must make his or her judgment, will make an informed judgment, 7 will make a judgment based upon the facts. And I think that 8 that will go a long way in hopefully resolving a number of 9 these issues.

10 Thank you very much.

11 MR. BERMAN: We do do that, Your Honor. And I just 12 wanted to -- you know, I don't want to sweep under the rug and 13 I want Your Honor to be alert that there's going to be some 14 people who we'll just never make happy.

15 THE COURT: Okay. Well, thank you very much.

16 Ms. Rivas.

17 MS. RIVAS: Good morning, Your Honor. Rosemary Rivas
18 on behalf of the plaintiffs and the Plaintiffs' Steering 19 Committee.

20 I'm pleased to present on the notice program, which we 21 believe is one of the most, if not the most, comprehensive 22 notice programs in consumer class action history. The parties' 23 proposed notice program is robust and utilizes traditional 24 methods of notice with emerging trends in legal notification.

25 The program consists of direct notice, paid and earned

1 media, and an informational and interactive website that's 2 available in both English and Spanish.

3 In terms of the direct notice, we have the names,
4 addresses, and vehicle information for virtually all class 5 members, whether they are owners, lessees, consumers, or 6 independent dealers.

7 We gave considerable attention to the notice package
8 itself. The mailing package we will use was creatively
9 designed to attract the attention of class members. We'll use 10 flat envelopes that utilize color so that the envelopes stand 11 out from other mail. The outside of the envelopes will also 12 contain language about the case and that options are explained 13 in the materials inside. The envelopes will be tailored to 14 Volkswagen owners and lessees, Audi owners and lessees, and 15 sellers.

16 Along with the long-form notice, a personalized cover 17 letter will also go out to class members which will encourage 18 them to read the lengthy long-form notice that we have 19 provided.

20 The long-form notice itself is in an easy-to-read format.
21 It has a summary of the settlement at the outset in 22 easy-to-read language. And it's followed by a question and 23 answer format that walks class members through their rights and 24 options with regard to the settlement.

25 And to maximize notice delivery, we'll utilize the

1 national change of address database before mailing and also 2 tracing and other services to maximize undeliverables.

3 We also have e-mails for class members who signed up for 4 the goodwill program. So some people will get two direct 5 notifications, via U.S. mail and then via e-mail. That e-mail 6 will have the personalized cover letter which will also contain 7 a link to the settlement website.

8 To reach non-Volkswagen car dealers in the United States,
9 we'll send out the long-form notice to more than 15,000 new car 10 dealers and to more than 58,000 used car dealers. We'll also 11 send out the long-form notice to fleet associations.

12 Updates will be provided to class members who do not 13 select the buyback option. Specifically we'll send them 14 e-mails or letters through the mail with updates about the 15 status of vehicle modifications.

16 While this direct notice program is very comprehensive,
17 we've also developed an expansive paid media program which I 18 think is just icing on the cake. We'll have a short-form 19 notice that will be published in both national and local 20 newspapers. The short-form notice will appear as a two-color 21 advertisement with images so it will attract attention.

22 The national newspapers we selected are the New York
23 Times, the Wall Street Journal, USA Today. We selected local 24 newspapers based on vehicle registration data. We selected 25 19 newspapers covering markets with more than 5,000 eligible

1 vehicles, and 26 newspapers covering markets with 2,000 to 2 4,999 eligible vehicles. We've selected 31 Hispanic newspapers
3 and 27 African-American newspapers. .

4 We'll also utilize digital advertising. We'll have banner
5 advertisements which we can specifically target to our class 6 members based on the vehicle data that we have for them. We 7 will utilize social media. We'll have advertising on Facebook, 8 Instagram, Twitter. We'll use LinkedIn in to reach fleet
9 owners and non-Volkswagen dealers. We'll use keyword searching 10 on major search engines such as Google Ad Words and Microsoft
11 Bing, and we'll utilize Google Display Network Services.

12 In terms of earned media, we're not just issuing your 13 traditional press release. We're issuing a multimedia press 14 release. It's also known as a campaign hero website that will 15 be distributed on PR Newswire's US1 national circuit. It 16 reaches 5,000 media outlets and 5,400 websites. Essentially 17 journalists will be able to visit this microsite, review the 18 press release, review collateral materials such as images, such 19 as the payment chart. And the microsite will also be 20 continually updated and it will have a social media sharing 21 function.

22 And, of course, we have the interactive settlement website 23 that will provide the relevant court documents, answers to 24 frequently asked questions. And as Mr. Rice talked about, 25 we'll have -- the class members will have access to a claims

1 portal where they can enter in their personalized information
2 and receive the vehicle value amounts, the restitution payment
3 amounts. There will be a tool for determining the effective 4 mileage on the vehicle value.

5 We'd also like to thank the Court and its staff for the 6 web pages that were posted on the settlement website. We think 7 that that's kept class members informed, and we'll continue to 8 do so.

9 Thank you, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: That seems pretty comprehensive. You 11 might want to sell your services to the political parties.

12 (Laughter.)

13 Ms. Cabraser.

14 MS. CABRASER: Thank you, Your Honor.

15 Well, like the political process, the class action
16 settlement process here is all about choice. And if Your Honor 17 grants preliminary approval to the proposed class action
18 settlement, that means that every member of the settlement 19 class everywhere will have an equal opportunity and an equal 20 right to make an individual choice about whether they want to 21 stay in the settlement class and participate in the settlement 22 through either a buyback or fix now or later, whether they want 23 to opt out of the class and go their own way.

24 And that choice was important to us, not simply because 25 it's enshrined in Rule 23(b)(3), but because bringing this

1 settlement to the class through preliminary approval restores 2 to them a much more important choice, and that is that it 3 restores to them the choice they thought they had when they 4 bought these cars. They thought they were making choices about 5 not only mileage and performance, and, by all accounts, the 6 cars delivered in those respects, and that's important for the 7 environment. But they also thought they were making a choice
8 about low emissions. And they were deprived of that choice.

9 The settlement seeks to restore that choice to them so 10 that they can restore to the environment and repair the 11 environment what was lost to the environment. And so that the 12 value of their own cars can be restored to pre-emissions 13 disclosure values.

14 We believe collectively among the PSC that we had an 15 important opportunity that we couldn't let pass by in this 16 case. I think we have three operating principles in the PSC.
17 Number one is no litigation is usual, not in this case. Number 18 two, no potted plants on the PSC. And number three, don't let 19 the opportunity go by to give people a choice, sooner rather 20 than later, in a restorative way rather than a recriminatory 21 way, to try to solve a problem they thought they were solving 22 in the first place.

23 Sometimes a settlement is hard not because a case is hard.
24 This case, at least on our side, we think is compelling. And 25 sometimes a settlement is hard just for that very reason. It's

1 sometimes easier to stay angry, to focus on recriminations, and 2 to seek revenge through the court system, and the court 3 provides a very civilized way of doing that.

4 But there's an alternative sometimes, not always, and that 5 is to actually use the power of the process to solve a problem 6 in the real world and to restore that which was lost and to 7 repair that which was broken.

8 We're very, very honored to be able to present, if this 9 Court grants Court approval, that choice to the consumer class 10 so that they can be instruments of restoration and repair, both 11 literally and figuratively, if that is how they choose to 12 respond. The notice program will give them all the information 13 that we think they need to be able to make that choice on an 14 ongoing matter.

15 I have letters from the PSC mailbag just to remind the 16 Court of two things that are important. First, as Ms. Rivas 17 referred to, there are non-Volkswagen dealers out there that 18 have these cars on their lots. They took them in trade. They 19 bought them. They haven't been able to sell them. Those cars 20 have the same lost value problem and the same emissions problem
21 that the owners and lessees have. And so those nonaffiliated 22 reseller dealers are in the settlement class.

23 We have an amended settlement agreement that makes that 24 very clear, explicitly puts them in the settlement class
25 definition. You've heard that the notice program gives them

1 notice. And we wanted to make sure that they understand that 2 they are treated just as consumers are in this settlement.

3 With respect to Judge Corley's question about eligible
4 sellers and the September 16th deadline, that is the deadline
5 for eligible sellers to identify themselves through settlement 6 website process. The claim doesn't need to be completed by 7 that time. And indeed it couldn't be completed unless and 8 until this Court grants final approval and claims become 9 operative.

10 So the time frame that they have is to get to that website 11 and to provide their information.

12 Finally, and Mr. Geller talked about this, we are asking 13 today for preliminary approval of the settlement under the 14 23(e) procedure. We're asking for approval of the class 15 notice, both content and the notice program, under Rule 23(c).
16 We're asking for provisional and preliminary class
17 certification for settlement purposes only as to two-liters 18 only under Rule 23(a) and Rule 23(b)(3). And we are asking for 19 the appointment of the members of the Plaintiffs' Steering 20 Committee as settlement class counsel under Rule 23(g).

21 You have seen a few of the people who were active in the 22 settlement negotiation process speak to you today. That is the 23 tip of the iceberg. There are no potted plants on the PSC.
24 Almost every member of the PSC was asked to drop other things 25 and to participate and assist in the settlement process during

1 the months we were negotiating, at the same time that every 2 single member of the PSC was actively engaged in discovery of 3 this case, in review and analysis of the millions of documents, 4 in preparation of expedited and contingency trial plans. That 5 work will continue because this proposed settlement is a 6 partial one. It doesn't include three-liters, as you know, and 7 it doesn't include all of the defendants in this case.

8 And so I'm pleased to report that in addition to their 9 other ongoing duties on the litigation side of this case, each 10 of the members of the Plaintiffs' Steering Committee has agreed 11 to also serve as a settlement class counsel to help shepherd 12 this settlement through the approval process and to make sure, 13 if it is granted final approval, that between now and the end 14 of 2018 when this settlement has the real world job of fixing 15 or taking off the road almost 275,000 cars in every state and 16 many territories of the United States, that these lawyers and 17 the members of their firms will be ready, willing, and able to 18 assist class members make this settlement a reality.

19 Thank you, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Thank you very much.

21 I'd like to turn now to Volkswagen and ask them for their 22 comments and presentation.

23 Mr. Giuffra.

24 MR. GIUFFRA: Good morning, Your Honor and 25 Judge Corley.

1 Our presentation, I will speak generally in favor of the 2 preliminary settlement. And my partner, Sharon Ellis, will 3 describe for the Court in some detail all of the important 4 steps Volkswagen has made and will continue to make to ensure 5 that this settlement is a success.

6 First of all, on behalf of Volkswagen, Your Honor, I would 7 be remiss if I did not thank the Court and Director Mueller for 8 all you've done. You know, from the very first conference when 9 I stood here and you were pressing me about getting cars off 10 the road, clearly, you know, Your Honor's setting up the 11 deadline had the effect on the governmental parties, the 12 Plaintiffs' Steering Committee, and Volkswagen. And I think it 13 was very important to set that -- those deadlines as you did.

14 And I'd also like to thank Director Mueller for his 15 hundreds of hours of work bringing this settlement to fruition, 16 and also for the many pizza he served to us late at night at 17 his office. And I would also want to thank his partners, Jim 18 Quarles and Aaron Zebley, who were very instrumental in 19 bringing --

20 THE COURT: Yes, I'd like to point that out as well
21 because when I have conferenced with Director Mueller giving me 22 his update, frequently he has brought with him his able 23 cocounsel from Wilmer Hale, and they've been outstanding.
24 They've been outstanding in their reports to me. They've been 25 clear. They've been analytical. They've been helpful.

1 The interesting thing about Director Mueller and his 2 colleagues has been their absolute dedication to resolving the 3 litigation. And their patience, their skill, their integrity 4 is, in my experience on the bench of 20 years, unprecedented.
5 Unprecedented. And so I am in your debt in terms of your 6 service here and your colleagues'.

7 Thank you. Go ahead.

8 MR. GIUFFRA: Now, Your Honor, Volkswagen is not the 9 first car company to face a serious issue, and I think that 10 when one assesses this settlement and how Volkswagen has 11 behaved, actions do speak louder than words.

12 And Volkswagen accepted responsibility for what happened
13 here. The company did not litigate this case. You know, one 14 of the things I think on everyone's side, this was not a case 15 where there are armies of lawyers engaged and, you know, just 16 churning for litigation for the purposes of churning. We 17 really wanted to do the right thing and get this thing to a 18 resolution as Your Honor had directed, and I think that's why 19 this is a settlement that was done with unprecedented speed.

20 Now, Volkswagen strongly urges the Court to give 21 preliminary approval to the settlement. We think this is a 22 very fair and very reasonable settlement. We think it is a 23 settlement that is good for consumers and good for the 24 environment and good for the public generally. It's also a 25 settlement that's good for Volkswagen. It allows Volkswagen to 1 turn the page, to begin to make things right in the 2 United States and to begin to re-earn the trust of our 3 customers.

4 Now, this settlement, as I think has been mentioned, is 5 the product of probably an unprecedented degree of cooperation 6 with the Department of Justice, the FTC, the EPA, CARB, the 7 California Attorney General, and the PSC. And I really would 8 like to thank my friend, Elizabeth Cabraser, and her team for 9 all that they did to bring this settlement about.

10 Now, in addition to the fact that this settlement has the 11 seal of approval of the DOJ, the FTC, EPA, CARB, the expert 12 agencies that really know this area better than anyone, I think 13 it's significant, Your Honor, that 44 state Attorney Generals 14 have signed on to support this settlement, as well as the 15 District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. And as Ms. Cabraser 16 mentioned, this settlement does give consumers a choice, it 17 compensates consumers, and it gets cars off the road through 18 either the buyback or the emissions modification.

19 Now, Mr. Berman made the point about asking class members 20 about the terms of the settlement. I can assure the Court
21 Volkswagen obviously did the same. And we needed a premium 22 that was high enough that would encourage car owners to bring 23 cars in, get them fixed or have a buyback, because we have an 24 obligation under our consent decree with the Department of 25 Justice to have an 85-percent participation rate or we pay

1 very, very high fines for not getting those cars off the road.

2 Now, it's been mentioned before, but I think it bears 3 repeating. There's a very detailed provision in Appendix B to 4 the DOJ consent decree which provides for the emissions
5 modification. And that modification is important, we think, 6 for consumers and for the company because there are consumers,
7 as our surveys have shown, who want to keep these cars.

8 Now from VW's perspective, that modification process is on 9 track. The first deadline for making a submission for the 10 Gen 3 two-liter cars is July 29th, and we're hopeful we'll make 11 that deadline. And so we're look forward to working closely 12 with CARB and EPA in getting the modification approved so that 13 consumers have the choice.

14 And just one last point, Your Honor, about the scope of 15 the settlement. This settlement applies only in the 16 United States, and I think that's important to -- it's an 17 important point to make. And there are different emissions 18 laws and environmental laws in, for example, Europe than in the 19 United States. And we are able to address the cars in a 20 different way in Europe than we can in the United States.

21 But this is a U.S. settlement that is driven by U.S. legal 22 considerations which are different from the considerations that 23 the company faces elsewhere.

24 So Ms. Ellis will now talk about all the things that 25 Volkswagen is doing to make the settlement work. And, again,

1 Your Honor, we thank you very much for all you have done to 2 bring about this settlement.

3 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Giuffra. Be sure to give 4 my regards to your son.

5 MR. GIUFFRA: You know, it's interesting, Your Honor, 6 I was with my son yesterday, and he's been reading about how he 7 gets mentioned in the court. And his grandfather was a lawyer
8 and I'm a lawyer, and my son happens --

9 THE COURT: So I hope he's learned from that.

10 (Laughter.)

11 MR. GIUFFRA: He has, Your Honor. But my son really 12 likes bow ties. There's a show called Doctor Who, and it's his 13 favorite show. And he said to me yesterday before I was coming 14 down here, or the day before, Sunday, he said, "Well, can I 15 wear a bow tie if I become a lawyer?"

16 And I said, "You can wear a bow tie if you become a 17 judge."

18 (Laughter.)

19 THE COURT: Thank you.

20 Ms. Ellis, you are going to address how Volkswagen is 21 going to successfully implement this settlement if approved.

22 MS. ELLIS: I am, Your Honor. Though it's always very 23 hard to follow my partner, Mr. Giuffra. He's a tough act.

24 But it is my pleasure to address the very significant 25 efforts that are being undertaken by Volkswagen to support this

1 settlement. As many have mentioned, it's been unprecedented in 2 speed and in scope.

3 From VW's perspective, there are really two twin goals in 4 the implementation process. First, to design a claims process
5 that provides information and relief as quickly as possible, 6 but also to design that process so it provides a seamless an 7 experience as possible for the consumers who are using it.

8 These are not always perfectly compatible goals. VW has 9 taken substantial steps, though, to make sure that they are as 10 integrated as possible and can begin, fingers crossed, as soon 11 as today. And to make sure that the settlement program 12 benefits are available without delay if the Court ultimately 13 determines it will grant final approval.

14 So let me describe some of those efforts.

15 First of all, the settlement itself is going to be 16 implemented by Volkswagen Group of America. And it's being 17 implemented under the direction of Volkswagen Group of 18 America's COO who is one of the most senior people at 19 Volkswagen and he reports directly to the president and the CEO 20 of Volkswagen Group of America.

21 Since well before the settlement was finalized and 22 announced, he has been working with a team of senior people in 23 legal, finance, IT, customer relations to make sure that the 24 settlement could proceed in this expedited fashion should we 25 have gotten to resolution and been able to come to this Court

1 and announce that in June.

2 Going forward there are going to be 40 key Volkswagen 3 Group of America personnel devoted essentially full-time to the 4 settlement. That group, as Mr. Rice noted earlier, is -- it is 5 Volkswagen that has been charged with the implementation of the 6 settlement, and that makes sense in the circumstances here.

7 THE COURT: So who -- what is the identity of the 8 individual who is the person at the top here who's going to 9 oversee it?

10 MS. ELLIS: Who is that?

11 THE COURT: Yes.

12 MS. ELLIS: His name is Mark McNabb, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: I always like to have a name.

14 MS. ELLIS: Mr. McNabb has worked -- most people in 15 this room know him well. He's been intimately involved with 16 every aspect of the negotiations. He will remain intimately 17 involved in the settlement implementation. And he will be very 18 annoyed with me that I had his name mentioned in court today.

19 THE COURT: No. I'll tell you, one thing we're about 20 is responsibility, accountability, and it's always a good idea 21 to have a name with the --

22 MS. ELLIS: I can personally attest to those 23 qualities, that those qualities reside in Mr. McNabb.

24 Going forward we're going to have 40 people, many of whom 25 have already been involved in or led every aspect of the

1 settlement implementation efforts that you've already heard
2 about today. For example, designing the website, developing 3 the claims portal, working on the notice plan, even designing 4 those flat envelopes that you heard about. Because, of course, 5 these are -- we have a lot of consumers, but these are also 6 Volkswagen customers, and it is, of course, very important to 7 Volkswagen that we get this right.

8 This team of -- this large team of dedicated Volkswagen 9 personnel is also in the process of hiring some 250 to 10 300 people to work exclusively on the settlement going forward
11 for the next several years. And those functions include 12 consumer support, claims processing, dealer support, technical 13 support, and parts and vehicle logistics. In fact, they've had 14 to build out an entire piece of the headquarters located in 15 Michigan to house all these people. And I'm going to go out 16 there and take a look at it in just a few days.

17 Now the efforts have included preparing information books, 18 videos, process flowcharts, to provide in-depth training for 19 the support team so they can be ready to help consumers through 20 the process.

21 Among other things, Volkswagen will be supporting a hot 22 line available seven days a week, 7:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.
23 Eastern. And if we receive preliminary approval even as early 24 as today, we are going to go live with that today.

25 There will also be a live chat function that's going to be

1 available on the settlement website in mid August. As Mr. Rice
2 was explaining, people will be able to go on the website
3 immediately upon preliminary approval, enter in car information 4 and start gathering information. In mid August, people will be 5 able to start uploading documents so that if there is final 6 approval, we'll be able to move immediately to begin processing 7 those claims.

8 When the time comes to be able to implement -- to be able 9 to upload documents, we will have people who will be able to 10 live chat with consumers, class members, about how to do that, 11 right on the website, in addition to the hot line, the phone 12 line.

13 In addition, Volkswagen will train and have settlement
14 specialists that are set at dealers to assist with the dealers
15 with the buyback and assist the class members with the buyback 16 and lease termination. There will be somewhere in the 17 neighborhood of 250 settlement specialists at least. It may be 18 twice as many.

19 The Volkswagen core team has already been out conducting 20 road shows with dealers over the past few weeks to educate them 21 about the settlement and their role in the settlement. My 22 understanding is that they have now reached some 90 to 23 95 percent of the Volkswagen dealerships. There's ongoing 24 outreach including now to the Audi dealerships.

25 And Volkswagen will support the dealers, too, through

1 their own call line and will have field specialists who will be 2 able to offer supports in various regions.

3 And finally, again, hoping for a final approval and a 4 positive reaction to the settlement, Volkswagen is already 5 undertaking to have people ready to contract for significant 6 incremental storage so that it can adequately support claims 7 volume if a lot of cars start coming in, in the fall.

8 It has been and is going to continue to be for at least 9 the next several years an extraordinary effort. VW is fully 10 committed to it. And the first fruits of labor will be 11 available, as I said, as soon as today when the website goes 12 live on preliminary approval and consumers can begin to 13 register and see what may be available to them under the 14 program, as well other customers, other consumers, and any 15 interested parties.

16 Thank you.

17 THE COURT: Thank you. Any further comments by 18 counsel?

19 (No response.)

20 THE COURT: The Court notes, of course, that the 21 attorneys' fees and costs in connection with this matter are 22 not part of the settlement. They do not in any way diminish or 23 reduce the amounts of money that are specified in terms of the 24 settlement or the relief that is being provided by the 25 settlement agreement.

1 I think it is important that the parties advise the Court 2 in the near future as to the method by which the counsel is 3 going to be compensated in this matter. Volkswagen has 4 acknowledged or agreed to assuming the responsibility of the 5 payment of fees and costs in connection with this matter, but 6 indeed one has to have some idea as to how that is going to be 7 implemented, formula or otherwise, so that class members have 8 that in their mind during this period of time. So you can file
9 a statement to that effect in the near future, and the Court 10 would welcome that.

11 Well, I don't know that I need to make any grand 12 observations about the settlement. It appears in your 13 presentation today, as it appeared when you filed your 14 documents, that an enormous effort has been devoted to 15 achieving a series of goals stated eloquently by Ms. Cabraser.

16 I think from what I've seen, those goals have been 17 achieved, at least preliminarily. And accordingly the Court
18 grants preliminary approval to the settlement. Further, it 19 will grant the release sought by plaintiffs in connection with 20 appointment of committees and certification of classes and so 21 forth pursuant to Rule 23.

22 And I will file an order today setting forth the Court's 23 reasons and setting forth the extent of relief that I presently 24 intend to grant at this point. In doing so, however, I don't 25 want any consumer or interested party, interested party --

1 interested party -- to believe that I have made a final 2 decision in this matter with respect to whether the settlement
3 will be ultimately approved. That is a matter that the Court 4 must, before doing so, consider the views of people who have 5 not spoken today or who have not been heard of, heard from, and 6 so that is a process that will be engaged from today forward.

7 The Court does want to set a deadline for the final 8 approval and does so by designating Tuesday, October 18th, of 9 this year to be the date for final approval of the proposed 10 settlement.

11 And is there anything further that the Court need to do at 12 this point?

13 Ms. Cabraser? Mr. Giuffra?

14 MS. CABRASER: Your Honor, two detail matters.

15 THE COURT: Yes.

16 MS. CABRASER: First of all, what time of day for the 17 final approval hearing?

18 THE COURT: Well, I like 8:00 o'clock.

19 MS. CABRASER: We've --

20 THE COURT: I don't like it all that much, but it 21 appears to me that given counsels' and other parties'
22 possibility that they would want to come from the East Coast 23 and so forth, it just makes it much more convenient to hear 24 early in the morning.

25 MS. CABRASER: We have all grown to love 8:00 o'clock

1 in the morning, Your Honor. And we will put that date and time
2 in the notice materials. They also need to specify the dates
3 for opt-out or objection and comment.

4 THE COURT: Yes.

5 MS. CABRASER: And the date for us to file our papers.
6 We had a proposed chart in a proposed preliminary approval 7 order. With the Court's permission, we can -- we have some 8 amendments to that order. We can resubmit it to Your Honor
9 today for consideration in conjunction with your order. It 10 includes the clarified settlement class.

11 THE COURT: Would you do so? The Court believes that 12 those dates are appropriate. And so if you would simply insert 13 that in your final submission today, that would be helpful.

14 MS. CABRASER: We will do that and get that in to 15 Your Honor today. Thank you very much.

16 THE COURT: Okay. Anything further?

17 MR. GIUFFRA: Not from the defendants, Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Well, I apologize for taking longer than 19 my customary 10 minutes, but this was a very, very helpful
20 presentation, and the Court appreciates it.

21 We stand in recess.

22 (Proceedings adjourned at 9:56 a.m.)
